TAKES MEAT INSPECTION TOUR

Agriculture Class of Columbia High School Visits Local Plant.

J. E. McPherson, superintendent of the Columbia public schools, took the high school class in agriculture on a meat inspection tour Wednesday. A ninth street meat market was visited, where the proprietor explained the cuts of beef and their prices.

Then the class went to a local cold-storage plant, where the cuts and prices of pork were explained. A hog was cut up in the process.

There are eighteen students in the class. Their tour Wednesday was in connection with their live-stock judging practice. The classes in domestic science later will visit the meat shops. There are fifty students in domestic science.

Don't Want to See Bathers.

By United Press
ST. LOUIS, May 15.—Still indignant from last season's bather's display, particular citizens of Valley Park have secured an injunction preventing bathers from the Merriam beach from strolling through the streets of the village in their suits. Week-end bathers from St. Louis, who heretofore persisted in shocking the good people by walking down the "main street" clad only in their dripping suits, will this season be forced to stay near the water or suffer penalties for contempt of court.

FARMERS' FAIR CLEARS $640.53

Columbia Merchants Subscribe $1150 for Success of Horse Show.

The Farmers' Fair made a clear profit of $640.53. This was the report made to the Agricultural Club at its last meeting by R. M. Green, treasurer of the County Fair. The total receipts were $2,068.43. Of this amount a large share was received by the small side-shows. Many of these shows took in $10 to $15. These shows had very little expense.

The Agricultural Club voted to distribute the profits of the fair as follows: Home economics department for its services at the fair, $60; business manager of the College Farmer, salary for this semester, $75; toward a debt on the College Farmer, $150; as a guarantee fund for the horse show, to be returned if the show receipts are high enough, $150. The remainder of the money will go to the treasury of the club to be used for current expenses.

Ben Coleman, a sophomore in the College of Agriculture was elected as representative on the Student Senate.

The following officers were elected for next semester in the club: President, C. E. Howell; vice president, D. C. Fitch; secretary, D. C. Wood; treasurer, Lynes Park. The following officers and contributors to the College Farmer were elected: Assistant business manager, T. A. Ewing; associate editor, E. H. Huelskemper; animal husbandry, C. H. Caldwell; alumni, J. S. Powell; agronomy, J. T. Barlow; horticulture, L. F. Reese; farm management, D. D. Sheppard; poultry, W. W. Fuqua.

W. W. Fuqua, president of the board of directors of the horse show, reported that $1150 had been pledged by citizens of Columbia to guarantee the success of the show. Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, who recently returned from the horse show given at Columbus, O., by the students of Ohio State University, said the horse show here would be the greatest of its kind ever given west of the Mississippi River. He described the show given at Ohio State. Other speakers at the meeting were C. L. Burlingham, a graduate student in agriculture; E. H. Hughes, assistant instructor; Dr. J. B. Gingery and Dr. W. L. Howard, of the agricultural faculty.

APPLES TO BE PLENTIFUL

Dr. W. L. Howard Comments on Fruit Conditions Throughout Missouri.

Dr. W. L. Howard, associate professor of horticulture, who has just returned from a spraying trip over the state, reports the fruit crop outlook as follows:

"The apple crop as yet promises to be very good, with the exception of the Jonathans, which were in blossom during a period of cold rains and consequently failed to pollinate properly. Ben Davises have set a very heavy crop.

"The apple blight is being reported again, and the leaf-eating insects are at work where orchardists have neglected spraying. Sprayed orchards are almost free from worms.

"The peach crop in the large orchards of Southern Missouri will be extremely light, on account of the April freeze. Peaches in the other parts of the state are more plentiful than usual. It was a case of the early worm being captured by the energetic bird, as these trees were the first ones to blossom. All the peaches in Arkansas and three-fourths of the crop in Northern Missouri are killed. There are very few peaches around Columbia.

"Cherries, which bloomed heavily everywhere, are proving a great disappointment. Few of the flowers set fruit. The blooms were on the trees at the time of some very cold rains, which prevented perfect pollination. Cherries will probably average one-fifth of a crop.

"Strawberries will be only about half as plentiful as usual. The exceedingly dry weather of last year killed a great many plants and as the vines do not produce until the second year the fruit crop will be short."

TURN YOUR SHIRT-TAILS INTO DRAWERS

OLUS

IN OLUS the outside shirt and underdrawers are one garment.

This means that the shirt can't work out of the trousers, that there are no shirt tails to bunch in seat, that the drawers "stay put," to say nothing of the comfort and economy of saving a garment. OLUS is cut out, opens all the way down—closed crotch, closed back. See illustration.

For golf, tennis and field wear, we recommend the special attached collar OLUS with regular or short sleeves. Extra sizes for very tall or stout men. All shirt fabrics, in smart designs, including flannel—$1.50 to $10.00.

OLUS one-piece PAJAMAS for lounging, resting and comfortable sleep. Made on the same principle as OLUS Shirts—cut out, closed back, closed crotch. No strings to tighten or come loose. $1.50 to $8.50. Ask your dealer for OLUS. Booklet on request.
